You may face delays at the intersection of I-17 and the Carefree Highway over the next month as ADOT crews work on a ramp re-construction project.

"The good news is that all this work is going to result in a much larger modern interchange and it really will be able to handle the growing traffic in that area," says ADOT's Doug Nintzel.

He says if you're exiting northbound I-17 or entering southbound I-17 at the Carefree Highway, you'll be using loop ramps as detour routes.
